

The Mary Jennings Sport Camp Scholarship is an initiative of The Playing for Power Project (P4P2), a non-profit organization whose mission is to encourage girls' participation and leadership in and through sports.

The scholarship is named in honor of Mary Jennings, a multi-sport scholar-athlete from Piscataway, NJ. Mary was diagnosed with liver cancer in 2006 at the age of 21 and passed away shortly thereafter.

In honor of her lifelong involvement in sport and success as a student-athlete, the Mary Jennings Sport Camp Scholarship was created to support girls ages 9-13 in their skill development by attending a sports camp of their choice.

Scholarship winners are chosen by a committee.

POWER PLAYER DONATION

DATA SHEET

The Mary Jennings Sport Camp Scholarship Fund is an initiative of The Playing for Power Project (P4P2). The scholarships provide support for girls ages 9-13 who want to attend a sports camp of their choice. The scholarship fund is supported entirely by donations.

Donors can initiate a special Power Player Donation by committing to a minimum contribution of $500 per year for a 3-year period. Power Player Donations can be named in honor of a mentor, family member or teammate; Power Player Donors can also choose to be recognized themselves or remain anonymous.

Each Power Player Donation will support at least one girl at a camp for each year of the commitment. Power Player Donors will receive notification of the identity of their annual Power Player (chosen by The Mary Jennings Sport Camp Scholarship Committee), their Power Player's pre-camp and post-camp stories, and a personalized thank you letter. Power Player Donors will also be recognized on the Power Player web page.

Establishment of a Power Player Donation requires a minimum donation of $500 per year for a 3-year period.
